TRUMPF MACHINE

Sharpline Stainless Steel have two Trumf combination punch/laser machines. The machines have the speed of a punch machine and capability to profile cut any shape with it's CO² laser head. They have a beam diameter of 0.15mm overall tolerance of 0.1. There is no panel too complex for these machines.

The combination machines are driven by Lantek software, leaders in CAD/CAM software to control CNC lasers and punch machines. With a part history database, we can duplicate any part/item customers have ordered even several years prior. Parametric programming allows us to create flat form benching profiled in only a few minutes, aiding us to meet the customers timelines and job requirements.

PRESS MACHINE

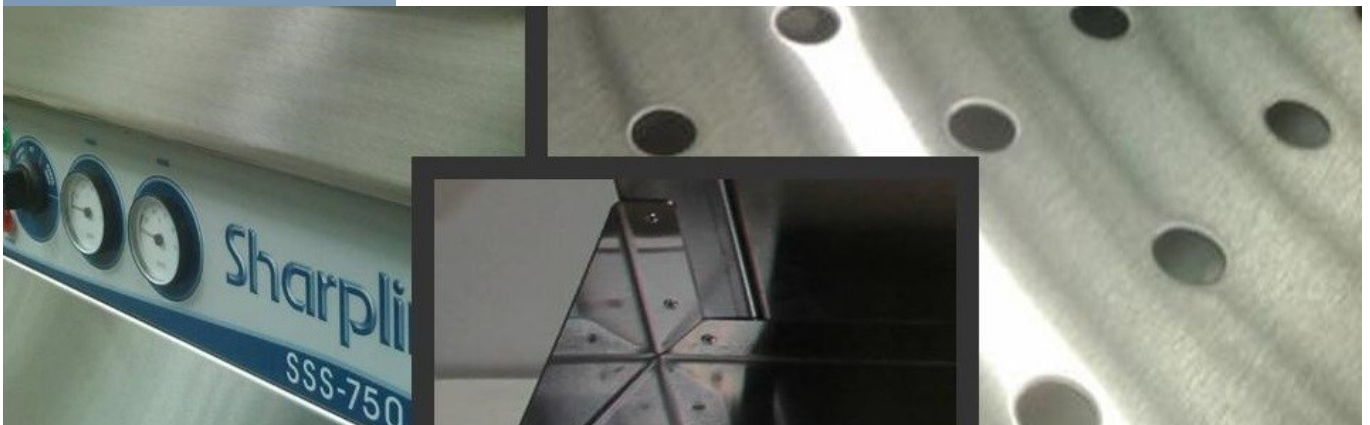

Sharpline Stainless Steel have two Gasparini brake press/folding machines.

1 x 3metres and 110 tonne pressing capacity.

1 x 4metres and 130 tonne pressing capacity.

Both machines are high end CNC controlled machines with 6 axis' each. As a result of our investment into software and machines we are able to meet customer requirements, offering high quality, accurately and on time fabrication.

Accuracy from programming software, laser, punch and folding machines, allows us to maintain a very accurate $\pm 2\text{mm}$ size for our finished products.
